PRESIDENT TO BE HEARD IN RADIO-TV TALK TONIGHT TO OUTLINE PEACE BLUEPRINT

Washington (AP)—If folks who have been talking about a "new" Stevenson and a "new" Nixon look closely in the next few days, some of them may see signs of a "new" Eisenhower.

President Eisenhower bids for re-election tonight with a nationally radio-televized talk in which he is expected to lay out a blueprint for a more secure peace and more widespread prosperity.

The CBS telecast, which is costing the Republican National Committee $79,000, has been billed as a program without gimmicks, during which Eisenhower will speak from a prepared text and without using any mechanical prompting device.

Nixon Tosses A Verbal Jab at Dem. Nominee

Reno, Nev. (AP)—Vice President Nixon tossed a light verbal jab at Adlai Stevenson today after a complimentary reference to the Democratic presidential nominee last night in a speech at Whittier, Calif.

The kid-glove poke came as somewhat of a surprise to news-men accompanying the Republican's top campaigner on a 15-day airborne sally into 32 states.

In a speech prepared for delivery here, Nixon chided Stevenson for having asserted in a recent talk at Harrisburg, Pa., that Democratic administrations had lifted this country to "a new plateau of abundance."

"Westerners, he said, know what a plateau is—"It is a tableland. It doesn't reach upward. It might even run downhill!"

"The Eisenhower administration," he said, "is not content to rest on any flat plateau. Since the plateau of 1952 was reached, when our opponents said Americans never had it better, the gross national product has increased from $345,229,000,000 to $408,300,000,000. And the average gross wage of American jobholders, who now number a record 66,600,000, has risen from $65.89 per week to (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Oldest Human Being Claims That He May Be 187 Years of Age

Miami, Fla. (AP)—A leathery little man with jet black hair was en route to New York today where scientists may determine if he is the world's oldest living human.

Juan Pereira, who stands 4 feet 4 and weighs only 75 pounds, arrived last night from his native Colombia en route to Cornell Medical Center. There he will undergo physical scientific and historic testing.

Estimates of his age range as high as 187 years, but the spy little Indian cannot read or write and does not know how old he is. He agrees, however, that the 187 figure is about right.

Dr. Joseph Miguel Restrepo, an authority on human age, estimated Pereira's years at more than 120.

Pereira, said his interpreter Flavio Correa, recalls events which happened in the days of Simon Bolivar, who died in 1830. Bolivar was a South American hero.

Pereira, according to Correa, "drinks when he can get it, smokes when he can and has out-lived five wives."

Adlai Extends Invitation To All Joe Smiths

Washington (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson stood there in the glare of floodlights and said: "We want the Joe Smiths even if Joe Martin doesn't."

Then Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, moved aside and the chairman of the party's national committee, Paul M. Butler, put it this way:

"Joe Smith, in my opinion, is the major issue of this campaign."

All this business about Smith got started, of course, at the Republican National Convention last month when a Nebraska delegate tried—unsuccessfully—to nominate a mythical "Joe Smith" against Vice President Nixon. The delegate, Terry Carpenter, said he was fighting for an "open" convention.

It was at that point that House GOP leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., the convention chairman, told Carpenter to "take your Joe Smith and get out of here."

Stevenson told a news conference, called to focus attention on a Democratic drive for seven million dollars in campaign money that all the Joe Smiths in the United States are welcome in his camp.

Stevenson turned up with a real Joe Smith—former Mayor Joseph Edward Smith of Oakland, Calif.—to serve as honorary chairman of a "dollars-for-Democrats" drive.

For good measure, the Stevenson forces announced they had recruited 15 other Joe Smiths—one of them christened Josephine—to head up local fund-raising campaigns in various sections of the country.

O'Keefe Claims He Was Cheated Out of His Loot

Boston (AP)—Star prosecution witness Joseph J. (Specs) O'Keefe indicated in testimony yesterday that he turned informer against his alleged partners in the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery because he was cheated out of about $95,000 of his share of the loot.

He told the Superior Court jury that the loot was divided shortly after the Jan. 17, 1950, robbery, with each of 11 men receiving $100,000.

Because he expected to be picked up for questioning about the robbery, he said he entrusted to Joseph F. McGinnis, 52, a suitcase containing $100,000.

He said that when he regained possession of the suitcase from McGinnis, described by the prosecution as the "brains" of the robbery, it contained only $98,000.

He said he took $5,000 from the suitcase and turned over $93,000 to Adolph J. J. Maffie, another of those on trial. He said he never saw any part of the $98,000 again.

Concrete Paving of Nine Streets Almost Finished

Borough Manager George Geracimos reported this morning that concrete paving of nine streets has been all but completed by Keystone Construction Company.

Glenwood street was completed last. Then the company moved its equipment to Erie where it will remain about three weeks before returning to complete finishing touches.

Streets concreted were Orchard, Franklin Extension, Conewango Place, Walnut, and a block of upper East, upper Water and Hammond street.

Today, Batlin Blacktopping is resurfacing Canton and Parker streets.

NEGRO PUPILS TURNED AWAY AT STURGIS

Sturgis, Ky. (AP)—Eight Negro pupils were turned away from Sturgis High School today when Earl Evans, principal of the school, read an order from the Union County School Board forbidding them to enter.

The Negro youths arrived at the school in an auto driven by Shelby Garnett, father of one. A crowd estimated at 250 had gathered and as the Negroes approached the school, about 100 people, including many students, moved near the entrance to the building.

After Evans read the letter from Carlos Oakley, superintendent of the board, he asked the Negroes if any of them had possessions in the school. Two of them said they had books in the building.

Lt. Col. Clarence O. Busch escorted the two into the school at Evans' request and they retrieved their belongings.

When asked if they were sorry that they were being put out of the Sturgis school, most of the eight just smiled and shrugged their shoulders.

The Negro pupils had attended classes at the school under the protection of the National Guard. The troops were ordered into this western Kentucky mining-farming community by Governor A. B. Chandler on Sept. 6 after a fist swinging mob turned back the Negroes.

Guardmen also are on duty in nearby Clay, in Webster County. Four Negroes were barred from the Clay Consolidated High and Elementary School yesterday by order of the Webster Board of Education.

White students had boycotted the Sturgis and Clay schools. After the Negro students were barred at Clay, more than 300 students returned to classes.

Warren County's All-American Is Hanging Up Cleats

A gridiron veteran and one-time All-American guard is hanging up his cleats this season for the first time in a dozen years.

First Lieutenant Stephen Eisenhower has decided at last that his career lies with the Marine Air Force and he will report Monday to the Marine Air Station at Cherry Point, N. C.

Victim of a couple banged up knees, All-American Steve has played two years of service ball, first at Quantico, Va. and later at Pensacola, Fla., with a brace on one leg and the other taped up.

His football career began in 1944 when the Sheffield Wolverines began using his services. He later played a year in prep school and then hit the big time as a guard at Annapolis Naval Academy where he achieved an All-American rating in 1953.

Graduating in 1954, Steve played service ball as he moved from training base to base. On August 21st of this year he received his Marine jet wings at Pensacola.

Since then he has been on leave with his wife, the former Barbara Ritchie, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Eisenhower, 18 Pickering street, Sheffield. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Ritchie who have recently moved from Sheffield to South Holland, Ill.

In an address prepared for delivery at a luncheon for Erie county Republican women, the former governor said:

"In the Atlantic Monthly for July 1953, Joe Clark wrote: 'spiritually and economically youth is conditioned to respond to a liberal program of orderly policing of our society by government subject to popular will.'"

"Do you know what that means? That is what Hitler did when he got the S. S. (secret police) in the early days of its training."

"Now I don't say Joe Clark means to do the same thing, but I do say he does not understand the principles of American governmental philosophy. And this is the kind of man who wants to represent you in the U. S. Senate."

"Do you, whoever you are, want your children policed in an orderly way by the government or do you want the church and the family to do the bringing up of your children?"

Shroyer announced he is doing flip-flop again

Philadelphia (AP)—John U. Shroyer, secretary of highways in the administration of Republican Gov. Edward Martin, has been named to a top spot in the Democratic campaign to elect Joseph S. Clark, Jr., to the Senate.

Shroyer has accepted the chairmanship of Clark's campaign in Northumberland, Snyder and Union counties, Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia said yesterday.

Shroyer said in a statement, however, he would support the Republican national ticket. He also said he would work for Dr. George A. Dietrich of Sunbury, an independent Republican running for state senator on the Democratic ticket.

Salvation Army Workers Are Honored at Farewell Dinner

MAJOR AND MRS. CHARLES SCHAFER

Coming here ten and one-half years ago from Harrisburg and serving the Warren Salvation Army Corps since that date, Senior Major and Mrs. Charles Schaffer will be retiring from active duty October 6, but it will be good news to their many friends that the couple expects to continue their residence in Warren.

On Tuesday evening, workers of the local corps held a farewell dinner in honor of the couple. After a bountiful meal had been served from beautifully-decorated tables, a program was presented, with Ward Lauffenberger, young people's sergeant major, as master of ceremonies.

Program numbers were a song, "Jesus Loves Me", cradle roll department; song, "If Jesus Goes With Me", girls' class; piano solo, "Hear Those Lovely Bells", Connie Schaffer; song, "The Old Rugged Cross", the Sunbeams; trumpet solo, "Take the Name of Jesus With You", Anthony Burke; poem, "God's House", Ward Lauffenberger, Jr.

Seneca Indians Showing Signs Of Opposition to Building of Proposed Reservoir at Kinzua

Salamanca, N. Y. (AP)—With apprehension, growing opposition and a trace of Indian fatalism, the Seneca Nation of Indians is watching federal moves to build the huge, 100-million-dollar Allegheny Reservoir—largest in the chain of flood prevention dams planned to benefit the Pittsburgh area.

Proposed by Army Engineers is a dam 200 feet high near Kinzua, Pa., 12 miles above Warren and 200 miles up the Allegheny River from Pittsburgh.

It would create a lake varying from 16 to 23 miles in length, according to the season and reaching up onto New York state. During severe floods, it might even impound water as far as this city 33 miles up-river from the dam-site.

Almost all of the New York state land subject to flooding under the plan is Indian land—part of the Allegheny Reservation area occupied by the Senecas since long before the coming of the White man.

Of the 1,100 Indians on the 30,000-acre reservation, 90 per cent live on the 9,000 acres which might be covered by water between Salamanca and the state line.

The Indians right to the land is guaranteed in the pecking treaty of 1794. The government agreed in the treaty that the area would be "the property of the Seneca nation," and promised that it would "never claim the same, nor disturb the Seneca nation . . . in the free use and enjoyment thereof; but it shall remain theirs, until they choose to sell the same to the people of the United States, who have the right to purchase."

According to Leo C. Cooper, president of the Seneca nation, this means that the Senecas must give their consent before the federal government can buy the land or acquire flood rights. He sees no indication that permission will be forthcoming.

In an address prepared for delivery at a luncheon for Erie county Republican women, the former governor said:

"In the Atlantic Monthly for July 1953, Joe Clark wrote: 'spiritually and economically youth is conditioned to respond to a liberal program of orderly policing of our society by government subject to popular will.'"

"Do you know what that means? That is what Hitler did when he got the S. S. (secret police) in the early days of its training."

Vandals Set Four Fires to Hazelwood Church

Pittsburgh (AP)—Vandals broke into the Ames Methodist Church in the Hazelwood district yesterday, setting four fires and causing damages estimated at about $75,000.

The Rev. Roger Shaffer, pastor of the church, said vandals set fires in the balcony, basement, Sunday School room, the sanctuary and the minister's study.

Police said the fire in the study burned through the floor and dropped into the basement. The other fires failed to catch.

The building was ransacked, office equipment was smashed, a Bible was tossed from the pulpit and other religious pamphlets and equipment was scattered.

The blaze destroyed books and many stained glass windows.

U. S. SECRETARY OF STATE DECLARES UN MIGHT FIND IT USEFUL TO INVOKE SCHEME

Moscow (AP)—Premier Bulganin said today the Soviet government would be ready to take part in a six-power conference of heads of state to avert war over the Suez crisis.

Participants would be the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, France, Egypt and India.

Bulganin said such a conference could "undoubtedly" provide a solution to the Suez crisis which would preserve the sovereignty of Egypt as well as guaranteeing freedom of passage through the Suez Canal for vessels of all nations.

Bulganin also said the Soviet government would have no objection to submitting any agreement reached by the conferees to the United Nations for ratification.

Bulganin said the Soviet government is ready to attend such a conference at any date and place convenient to the other powers. He suggested Geneva as a possible site.

Bulganin made his statement in answer to questions submitted by International News Service, an American news agency.

London (AP)—John Foster Dulles called on Egypt today to accept his plan for a canal users' association as the first step toward a peaceful and permanent solution on the Suez crisis.

The U. S. secretary of state also suggested that the United Nations "might find it useful to invoke" the scheme while talks continued between Egypt and the world's leading maritime nations.

Dulles' speech took up a great part of the 80 minutes of the opening session of the 18-nation conference. His primary purpose was to convince skeptical smaller nations among the 18 that the users' association idea, backed by the Western Big Three, was a good one.

Egypt's President Nasser has already condemned the users' association idea as tantamount to a declaration of war if implemented.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, chairman of the meeting, said the U. N. Security Council would be consulted at some time in the Suez dispute. He did not elaborate.

Sweden, Iran and Spain immediately called for further talks with the Nasser regime, which earlier this month rejected—even as a basis for negotiations—the 18-nation proposal for international control of the waterway.

Many of the 18 nations had agreed to come to the new talks only to hear Dulles' explanation of the users' association, which they feared might be tied in with the use of force. In his speech, Dulles emphasized the peaceful side.

Dulles said membership in the proposed association would not involve "the assumption of any member of any obligation."

He proposed establishment of a small operating staff under an administrative shipping agent, along with a small governing board to be chosen from among the 18 nations. He suggested that members advance a modest working fund, to be repaid by money received from the association members for services rendered.

The administrative agent, Dulles said, "could act as desired on behalf of the ships of the members."

Dulles also raised the possibility—upmost in all delegates' minds—that Nasser might block the canal to association members.

Dulles has denied the association might organize a boycott of the canal. But he has offered to make loans available, through the Import-Export Bank, to those nations that would be hit by the higher costs of shipping goods the long way.

Lloyd opened the session with a statement emphasizing Britain's position if the dispute remained unchanged.

Prime Minister Eden invited the foreign ministers of Ethiopia, Italy, Pakistan, Sweden and the Netherlands—most of them dubious about the plan—to lunch with him.

Intensive diplomatic activity also continued in Cairo.

Nasser talked with envoys of Pakistan and Ethiopia, two of the 18 nations attending the London (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Dispute in Democratic Ranks Goes Back to State Chairman

State Democratic Committee Chairman Joseph Barr was requested this morning by Democrats For Democratic Action to "assume his full responsibilities and appoint the chairman of Warren County according to his abilities and the will of Warren County Democratic voters."

The telephoned request followed a DFDA meeting in Pittsfield last night at which that segment of the county Democratic organization went on record as unanimously deciding that "flipping a coin" was no way to resolve the co-chairmanship of Warren County Democratic Party.

Co-chairmen selected at a July meeting of the county Democratic committee are Robert Walker of Youngville who represents the DFDA, and Chester Walker of Clarendon, representing the Mel Anderson faction.

It was brought out at the meeting last night, that the state Democratic bylaws do not uphold co-chairmanships. At a previous meeting between state chairman Barr and county co-chairmen Walker and Clark, Barr was reported to have suggested that the issue be resolved by a coin flip.

Walker agreed but Clark said he felt he should discuss the matter with his backers.

At the meeting last night, Clark's backers expressed opinions to the effect that they had worked too hard to have such an important issue be resolved in that manner, and spoke of "consolation prizes" which would accrue to the (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Rock 'n' Roll Dance At Newport Ends in Free-for-All Fight

Newport, R. I. Sept. 19 (AP)—A rock 'n' roll dance at the naval base's enlisted men's club last night ended in a riot among 1,500 white and Negro sailors and Marines, their wives, and women companions, which wrecked the club interior, and sent 15 sailors to a hospital.

During the fight which spilled out into public streets, 22 servicemen were taken into custody by Newport police. Seven were held for District Court arraignment.

Capt. Liles W. Creighton, commanding officer of the naval station, ordered an immediate investigation.

Naval authorities offered no apparent reason for the riot which occurred as Fats Domino and his band were concluding a one-night stand.

Newport police said beer bottles, beer cans and pitchers were hurled through the air and out the windows of the club.

Mirrored in Our Times

We attended a new P.T.A. meeting the other night (new to us) and came away impressed with the genuinely friendly atmosphere that prevailed. Being a relative stranger in the midst, it was wonderful to have folks smile and say "hello" anyway. Current problems were discussed and those who voiced opinions rated a round of applause.

Many organizations or groups could learn a lesson in success—make everyone feel welcome—even though they be total strangers.

May we quote again a few choice words from Ty Taylor—"Bright colors in good taste is the order of the day in men's clothes for fall. Men are sailing forth to buy new clothes with a determined air, in a valiant attempt to shake off the darkness of their charcoal past" . . . "Men's liking for pattern is one of the main reasons for the introduction of so much color."

Getting away from fashions for a moment, we note that the Warren Sports Boosters are busily engaged in another homecoming event—the October 5th weekend is set for the annual get-together that has grown in popularity from year to year. Why not watch for subsequent publicity and plan to join in this tremendous community affair?

And speaking of growing in popularity—that's what has happened at The Style Shop. With Don Richards, Style-Mart and countless other famous names listed on the roster, The Style Shop chalks up winners every time. For those who seek the "best in menswear"—this is it!

(Just between us)—let's play a suggestion game (sorry, no cash prizes)—today in Warren, someone is celebrating a 50th anniversary. That's right—tonight's the night—and, if you're at all curious, you'll read this issue of the Times-Mirror and find out who and where. To those who observe retail hours in the borough at 544 Pennsylvania avenue, west, Happy Anniversary!

We try to do our utmost for our advertisers—just yesterday—we offered to break a leg if such an act would bring to your attention an "Age Old Story"—At any age, illness or accident may befall us. Since ancient times, the profession of Pharmacy has been aiding the physician in his effort to heal the afflicted and alleviate the discomforts of the ill, the aged and the disabled. By the same token, certain establishments are appointed a member of the SURGICAL PHARMACY GUILD, and, therefore expand services to our community and to the medical profession by making available invalid and sickroom supplies. ## Methodist Churches At Brownsville in An Unusual Merger

Brownsville (P)—Two Brownsville churches have been merged in what the pastors described as the first such action in the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Church.

The congregations of the First Methodist and the South Brownsville Methodist churches approved the merger in votes cast Sunday night. First Methodist voted 78 per cent in favor and south Brownsville 84 per cent in favor of the action.

The Rev. Frank T. James, of South Brownsville, and the Rev. Ben F. Donely of First Methodist, will continue as co-pastors. The combined congregation will total 1,300 members—one of the largest in the conference.

For the present, services will continue to be held in the two churches. However, a building program will be discussed in the near future.

Members of the merged church will decide on a name for the new congregation at a later date. Formal ceremonies will be held Sept. 30 at Jurnonville Camp, near Uniontown.

Empire State Beacon Is Blacked Out to Save Birds

New York (P)—A bright beacon atop the Empire State Building has been blacked out to prevent fatal crackups by southbound birds.

Bird lovers feared the dazzling light would charm thousands of night-flying birds off course and send them crashing into the skyscraper or each other.

The building management announced yesterday that the powerful stationary beam will stay dark until Nov. 1 and the end of the migrating season.

The announcement said the revolving beacons on the building will continue to sweep the Manhattan sky because moving lights "are not considered a hazard to birds."

Sundown To Mark Start of Important Holiday for Jews

Sukkos, the Feast of Tabernacles, the great Bible-ordained holiday of Thanksgiving will be celebrated in Jewish homes and synagogues beginning at sundown tonight.

Taken from the Hebrew word "Sukkah," meaning temporary booth or tabernacle, the Sukkos holiday commemorates the wanderings of the Children of Israel in the Wilderness during which time they lived in frail "booths" or "huts".

This was the period from the deliverance from Egyptian persecution and slavery in the Exodus to the entrance into the Promised Land.

It carries the message of Thanksgiving to the Creator for the bounty of the autumn harvest, for present-day comforts, and for remembrance of man's frailty with his need for Divine Care.

The Thanksgiving Day for all Americans was patterned on Sukkos by the Bible-loving Pilgrim fathers who settled in New England.

They regarded their experiences as parallels to the Children of Israel who rebelled against oppression and wandered toward a new land of hope and freedom.

Construction of the "sukkos" in backyards and on synagogues grounds for the duration of the week-long holiday will mark the observance.

Meals are eaten and special blessings recited in the Sukkah, decorated with colorful leaves, plants and harvest fruits.

Special benedictions are also pronounced over the "Lulav" and "Ethrog" plant combinations. The Lulav is made up of palm branches intertwined with myrtle and willow leaves. The Ethrog is the citron fruit.

Among other meanings, they symbolize varieties of human beings signifying that all must act co-operatively to have a proper kind of society.

The Eighth day of Solemn Assembly and the Festival of the Rejoicing of the Law follow Sukkos on September 27 and 28.

Everyone Invited to Stein's 50th Birthday Party Tonight; Ribbon-Cutting at 7 O'Clock

—By Defrees
"ERNEST" STEIN

—By Kofod
RAY STEIN

Attention is directed to a page advertisement in this issue in which a general invitation is extended the public to attend the fiftieth anniversary celebration at Stein's Ladies Shop, 344 Pennsylvania avenue, west, this evening beginning at seven o'clock, when there will be a ribbon-cutting ceremony, and continuing through ten p. m. Wonderful door prizes will be distributed, there will be a style show, with live models, refreshments, favors, etc. An augmented sales force will be on hand to serve visitors and patrons who may desire to make selections from the choice merchandise that is offered in the ad.

E. L. Stein came to Warren from Clayton, N. Y., where he was employed, 50 years ago, in 1906, and purchased a ladies shop with general merchandise from J. M. Shearer, at 209 Liberty street, located at the present Liberty street entrance of the Murphy Company.

After the usual struggle with any new business, Mr. Stein concentrated on quality merchandise and enlarged and remodeled his store many times, until in 1930 the building was sold to the Murphy Company and Mr. Stein purchased his present store at 344 Pennsylvania avenue, which was at that time occupied by the J. C. Penney Company. The store was remodeled and was described in several articles as a "dream store," perhaps not by present standards, but at that time the huge arched stucco ceiling with indirect lighting caused much favorable comment.

In 1933, following graduation from Pennsylvania State University, Raymond Stein joined his father in the store, where he has remained, first as store manager, then as a partner in 1945, following his return from three years of overseas duty during the war. Four years of planning then resulted in the complete remodeling of Stein's into its present carpeted, air conditioned, blonde oak paneled modern ladies' shop, with one of the first recessed fronts, with huge single pane plate glass windows.

Both E. L. Stein and Raymond Stein have been active in organization and community affairs throughout the years. Both are members of the Lions Club (E. L. Stein being a charter member), Warren Lodge of Elks, B'nai B'rith, Coudersport Consistory and em Zem Temple. E. L. Stein is a member of Joseph Warren Lodge No. 726 and Raymond Stein of North Star Lodge No. 241. Both have served on many community drives; also on the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce, where R. Stein also served as a director for a period of two years.

E. L. Stein was recently married to Mrs. Rae Michton, of Charlottesville, Va., and they are making their permanent home in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stein and two daughters, Beverly and Leslie, reside on Buchanan street in Warren.

Mirrored in Our Times

We attended a new P.T.A. meeting the other night (new to us)—and came away impressed with the genuinely friendly atmosphere that prevailed. Being a relative stranger in the midst, it was wonderful to have folks smile and say "hello" anyway. Current problems were discussed and those who voiced opinions rated a round of applause.

Many organizations or groups could learn a lesson in success—make everyone feel welcome—even though they be total strangers.

May we quote again a few choice words from Ty Taylor—"Bright colors in good taste is the order of the day in men's clothes for fall. Men are rallying forth to buy new clothes with a determined air, in a valiant attempt to shake off the darkness of their charcoal

Getting away from fashions for a moment, we note that the Warren Sports Boosters are busily engaged in another homecoming event—the October 5th weekend is set for the annual get-together that has grown in popularity from year to year. Why not watch for subsequent publicity and plan to join in this tremendous community affair?

And speaking of growing in popularity—that's what has happened at The Style Shop. With Don Richards, Style-Mart and countless other famous names listed on the roster, The Style Shop chalks up winners every time. For those who seek the "best in menswear"—this is it!

(Just between us)—let's play a suggestion game (sorry, no cash prizes)—today in Warren, someone is celebrating a 50th anniversary. That's right—tonight's the night—and, if you're at all curious, you'll read this issue of the Times-Mirror and find out who and where. To those who observe retail hours in the borough at 844 Pennsylvania avenue, west, Happy Anniversary!

We try to do our utmost for our advertisers—just yesterday — we offered to break a leg if such an act would bring to your attention an "Age Old Story"—At any age, illness or accident may befall us. Since ancient times, the profession of Pharmacy has been aiding the physician in his effort to heal the afflicted and alleviate the discomforts of the ill, the aged and the disabled. By the same token, certain establishments are appointed a member of the SURGICAL PHARMACY GUILD, and, therefore, expand services to our community and to the medical profession by making available invalid and sickroom supplies. Being a member of the Board of Directors on the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society, we received the annual report entitled "Our Program is the Open Door to Research, Education and Service". Believe us, friends, this is a local organization that deserves your attention and wholehearted support. Let's briefly explain—as for research — certain funds are allocated that national scientists may continue the fight against a dread disease; education—(let's hit the local level)—outstanding films and expert speakers are available to any group requesting such—and at no cost!—just call the office (2107). Now, let's talk about service. Ease of pain, comfort and small conveniences are provided each year for hundreds of needy patients. Now, we could go on and on about our local unit—we could mention many patients who received essential dressings; we could itemize transportation service; we could list patients receiving medication or visiting nursing service; or we could go into detail as to other facets of what your Warren County Cancer Society accomplishes—but, space does not permit. What we're trying to say is this—If someone you love—or think a great deal of—needs help from the Warren County Unit of The American Cancer Society—don't keep it a secret—let them know!

R. Reynolds of the Census Bureau's district office at Cleveland, Ohio which will participate in the survey.

The special questions are being asked at the request of the United States Public Health Service to obtain facts for use in planning for future hospital facilities to meet the needs of the Nation's steadily increasing population and to determine methods used in financing hospital care. The survey will provide information on the number of people covered by hospitalization insurance, types of service covered such as hospital care, surgeons' fees, etc., the number of people who were hospitalized during the 12 months ending September 15 and related data.

The special hospitalization questions will be in addition to the regular inquiries on employment and unemployment asked each month in the Current Population Survey which will be conducted locally and in 329 other sections of the country during the week of September 17.

SUZ PILOTS ARE THE KEY

An Associated Press dispatch from Port Said, Egypt, on Tuesday stated that traffic in the Suez Canal fell to 31 ships the fourth day of operations exclusively by Egyptian and Greek pilots.

As stated before, one of the ironies of the crisis is that the technical difficulties of navigating the canal are so great that they inevitably temper even the over-weening ambitions of Egyptian President Nasser.

He has the canal, but not the means to operate it. And that compelling fact is what put him in a mood to compromise.

As has often been noted, the pilots who guide ships through Suez are the crux of the technical problem. Without their highly developed skills, the canal is a treacherous waterway that ships will not try to negotiate.

The Suez Canal Company, from which Nasser seized the canal, not too long ago invited ship captains of many maritime nations to take their vessels through without pilot assistance. There were no takers. Ship companies couldn't get insurance.

Pictures of vessels passing through Suez usually give a deceptive impression that it's an easy passage. It is anything but that.

At many points the canal bottom is no more than 180 feet wide. Its sides slope outward to give broader width at the surface (minimum 500 feet), but the bottom width is crucial. To be off course one degree can mean running aground.

Over its 105-mile span the waterway has 12 major curves, so tricky to master because of powerful currents that in some spots the helmsman steers left to go right. From the Mediterranean southward, the ships encounter high winds, often accompanied by blinding sandstorms, in the first half of the passage.

Formerly about 200 pilots, heavily overworked, took ships through. Of the total some 50 were Egyptian, including about 30 still in the earliest training stages. There were many British and French pilots, and some 10 other countries were represented.

Standard procedure has required pilot applicants to have at least 10 years of effective navigational experience on the high seas. Qualified men thereafter spend two years guiding craft through the wide Port Said roadstead on the approaches to the canal proper.

Next, two months of studying the canal itself as a "second man" to the active pilot, and then two months of trial piloting. If all tests are passed, the trainee is ready.

But his beginnings are on the smaller vessels. Only after eight to 10 years of piloting through Suez does he command the rank that puts him on the biggest vessels.

This is the situation into which Nasser has plunged his clumsy foot. Any substantial loss of experienced foreign pilots, particularly those in the upper ranks, would gravely cripple waterway operations.

FALL FOLIAGE CALENDAR

Says The Salamanca Republican-Press:

Goldenrod and asters along the roadside, here and there a birch beginning to shed yellow leaves, an occasional flash of red on a maple, herald the approach of Autumn and are reminders that the Autumn leaf is turning into big business.

Travel officials in various states are bidding for fall visitors by stressing the seasonal festival of colors.

The annual pageant of Autumn color appeals to more and more people as travel hither and yon comes within their reach. Some states will issue regular bulletins this year tracing the progress of leaf-tinting.

The spectacle begins in Northern New England and spreads westward and southward. Late September and early October usually bring the peak of color in Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont. New York and New Jersey, from early October through most of the month. West Virginia, early October. North Carolina, mid-October in the Great Smoky and Blue Ridge range. Arkansas, October in the Ozarks. Wisconsin, mid-September through mid-October. Illinois, late October.

In the highlands of Allegheny State Park the Allegheny State Forest across the line in Pennsylvania, and southward along the Alleghenies, the color usually is at its best along about October 10-15. The exceptionally wet summer hereabouts may slow down the changes in the leaves this fall.

Here and There

It may not be generally known but it is a matter of record that Robert L. Dennison, Vice Admiral, U. S. N., attended the recent American Legion convention at Los Angeles, Calif., as a representative from Chief Complanter Post No. 315, of which he is a member. In a letter just received by Commander Bill Walker, Admiral Dennison says, among other things, "I thought you might be interested in a report of my recent participation at the national convention. It was a most impressive sight and as you know drew a very large attendance. I introduced myself at the Pennsylvania Headquarters in the Ambassador and was disappointed not to find any representation from our Post. However, during the convention I took pride in telling people that I was from Chief Complanter Post, Warren, Pennsylvania. I addressed the Legion National Security Commission on Saturday, September 16th, on the subject 'The Navy Today.' That appearance together with representatives of our other Services was followed by a panel discussion which was most interesting and, I think, productive. On Monday I was invited to be in the reviewing stand for the Legion parade. I sat beside the National Commander, Mr. J. Addington Wagner, and witnessed one of the best parades it has been my pleasure to see. On Tuesday, the 14th, I attended the National Commander's Banquet in the Biltmore Hotel and sat at the speaker's table. It was a most interesting affair. General Gruenther delivered the principal address on the subject of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, pointing out the importance of that alliance to our security. The speech was very well done and was well received. Please accept my congratulations on your election to Commander. I am sure you will keep up the good work which has so long marked the activities of the Chief Complanter Post."

While we have our interest spotlighted on the west coast and the Los Angeles area it is appropriate and timely to comment on a visit from a former well known Warren resident who dropped into the office for a chat Monday afternoon. It is a long time since we have had a chance to exchange greetings with Bio Marrer, for 41 years a valued employee of the Warren Gear Products Co., before he retired to "go west" and enjoy the sunshine some eight or ten years ago. Bro for the past eight years has been living in Rivera, California, where he and the "Mrs." share a duplex ranch type house with their daughter, son-in-law and grandson, the Malcom Knox family, also former well known residents. He says Knox, who is a chief engineer for the Aero-Jet Corporation at Azusa, Calif., has been recently assigned to go to Odessa, Texas, where his firm is erecting an $11,000,000 plant, in the capacity of residential engineer. The Knox family will not move to Texas, however, since their son is completing his last year in High School. Rivera, incidentally, is on the three-way leading into Los Angeles, four miles from Whittier. Other adjacent communities are Bellflower, South Gate and Downey. The Marrers have reservations out of Chicago on October 12 for the return trip, but he says the temperature of the past few days makes him feel that he is extending his visit just a little too long into the fall season.

Another welcome visitor to the sanctum sanctorum while Marrer was being interviewed was Nat Drake, one-time proprietor of Drake's "5c and $1.00 Store", 311 Pennsylvania avenue, east and for a number of years executive vice president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, who divides his time between Miami, Florida, and Chautauque, N. Y. Nat came north early this summer and during the past several months has been engaged in the real estate business in the Chautauque area. According to all accounts he is doing very well in his new line of endeavor. He says his plans for returning to the southland will depend entirely on the brand of fall weather this section experiences during the next month or two.

President Sets Pace for Keeping Campaign Clean

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Eisenhower's determination to run a clean campaign, speaking no evil of his Democratic opponents personally, has set a high standard for his followers to live up to.

When Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced his first two-week, 15,000-mile airplane swing through 32 key states, he commented that President Eisenhower had his responsibilities of office to carry out, and therefore couldn't campaign on a whistle-stop basis.

"President Truman did that in 1948," Nixon observed. "But he is not in the same class with President Eisenhower."

There was a ripple of laughter among reporters over this indirect dig at Nixon's old sparring partner. A couple of sentences later Nixon referred back to it to correct the record.

"I intended nothing derogatory to President Truman," Nixon explained in reference to his earlier remark. "I was just making a comparison of their popularity."

REPUBLICANS thought they were pretty smart, doing a lot of early advance planning to sign up a lot of five-minute spots at the end of the most popular radio and TV programs for short political pitches. They ended up with 35 of these periods, two and three a day, beginning in mid-October.

Then the Democrats came along later, went to the networks and said in effect "We want the same thing only more of it." Federal communications law requires networks and individual stations to make equal time available for rival candidates when demanded.

So the way the thing stands now is that the Democrats have a schedule for 50 of these five-minute broadcasts. The Democrats are also planning to put their candidates on live as much as possible. The Republicans will use a good bit of film and recordings for studio-produced shows, perfect in detail.

FIRST EDITION of the "Republican Speakers Book" has disappeared from circulation. It was a handy little vest-pocket size, paper-backed booklet of 100 pages in a red cover. Issues were arranged in alphabetical order, one issue to a page. It was full of ready reference facts and figures to help campaign orators prepare their masterpieces.

The booklet came out last June, and a few copies got into circulation. But word from GOP headquarters now is that the booklet was never really issued. And it was withdrawn because objections were raised to some of its arguments by White House staff members.

A new and revised edition is in preparation and will be issued soon.

JUST TO SHOW how times have changed and how much brotherly love there is in the GOP today, Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois has sent in a request to Republican National Committee headquarters for ex-Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York to come to Illinois for a campaign speech.

Four years ago at the GOP convention in Chicago, Dirksen gave a slashing verbal attack on Dewey. Dirksen was then supporting the late Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination. Dewey was a strong pro-Dewey man. Pointing to Dewey in the convention hall Dirksen accused him of having led the party to defeat in 1948. There were loud boos from the convention floor.

Former Local Girl Bride

Holy Trinity Lutheran church in Greenville was the setting September 1st of a wedding of local interest, when The Rev. Peter Brath performed a double ring ceremony to unite in marriage Clara Jane Rogers, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward K. Rogers of Greenville, and James Maurice Eller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Eller of Mercer.

The bride is a former resident of Warren and graduate of the local high school. Among the guests were the following from here: Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Brumagin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cable, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crescraft, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pifer, Mrs. Polly Schrick, Mr. and Mrs. William Yeager.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose her sister, Rebecca, as maid of honor and another sister, Mary Louise, as bridesmaid. Completing the bridal party were David Eller, best man for his brother; Eugene Jordan, Robert Long, Eugene Heckathorn and Theodore Ifft, all of Mercer, who were ushers.

The bridal gown of white silk bombazine was styled with long sleeves in a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline with inset of pleating overlaid with re-embroidered Alencon lace medallions and alight with sequins and pearls. The lace medallions were repeated on a front panel forming princess lines, the bouffant skirt with soft pleating at the waistline fell into a chapel sweep. Pearls and sequins accented the lace medallion headpiece which held her fingertip veil. Completing her outfit, she carried a white Bible, topped with a fleur d'amour corsage and showered with white ribbons knotted with stephanotis. Her only jewelry was an amethyst pin, heirloom from her great-great-grandmother, born in 1791 and daughter of a Revolutionary War veteran.

Carrying cascade bouquets of variegated carnations and ivy, her attendants wore chromespun taffeta, Miss Rebecca in blue, Miss Mary Louise in rose pink. Each had a headpiece and mits to match her gown, which was fashioned with long bodice and floating back panel.

Following the reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a wedding trip into northern New York state. Returning they are at home at 103 East Park avenue, State College.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD H. RIGBY, III.

Escorted by her father and groomed in delustered white satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace, Joyce Ann Sponsler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sponsler, 26 Orchard street, became the bride on Saturday, September 15, of Edward Hudson Rigby, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Rigby, 406 South Jackson street, Media, Pa.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 2:00 p. m. in Grace Methodist church by the Rev. C. W. Baldwin, palms, vases of bronze mums and white pompons, with candelabra, forming the setting. Wedding music was by Richard Pratt, at the organ, and David Greenlund, singing "I Love Thee" by Grieg, "O Perfect Love" by Barnby, and, during the ceremony, P. Dunn of Upper Darby, aunt of "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The bride's gown was styled with scalloped sash and neckline and long tapering sleeves in an empire bodice of re-embroidered lace dotted with sequins and seed pearls, the princess lines forming a bouffant satin skirt and chapel train. Her veil fell fingertip length from a pillbox of matching lace over satin, with seed pearl accents, and her flowers were a cascade arrangement of white gladiolus.

Norma Sponsler, maid of honor for her sister, wore floor length butterscotch crystal-satin, with V-neckline, elongated waistline accented with a band of re-embroidered lace, and bouffant skirt with back bustle. A matching plateau of lace held her circular veil and her colonial bouquet was of smoky gladiolus.

Wearing ivory green crystal-satin gowns and hats, like the maid of honor, and carrying yellow gladiolus in colonial bouquet, the bridesmaids were Carole Braun, cousin of the bride from DuBois, Barbara Rigby, cousin of the bridegroom, of Media, Patricia Pifer of McConnellsburg college friend of the bride, and Elizabeth Ward of Lewistown, college roommate.

George Rigby, Jr., of Media, was best man for his cousin, ushers were Kenneth G. Rudolph, McKeesport; Richard Niess, of Emmaus, James Haupt, Shenandoah, and William Pharoah, of Jeannette, all college friends.

Mrs. Sponsler chose for her daughter's wedding a blue crepe with lured yams, blue and silver accessories, and corsage of lavender gladiolus. Mrs. Rigby wore brown accessories and smoky gladiolus with mauve silk organza over taffeta. Remembered with corsages of watermelon pink gladiolus were the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Foltz, DuBois, wearing blue tweed crepe, and the paternal grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Elsie S. Rigby, of Media, in blue lace.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Appointed in white and silver, the bride's table was centered with mixed white flowers and presided over by Mrs. Harry the bridegroom, and Elizabeth Eddy. A five-tier cake, bearing bridal figures in miniature and encircled by greens, was served by Lucille Johnson, college friend of the bride from Huntingdon, and Judith Ann Rigby of Media, cousin of the bridegroom; Mrs. Ronald Watkins, Pittsburgh, was at the punch table. Aides were Diantha Chesnut and Dawn Taft, the latter managing the guest book.

Out of town guests were from Media, Philadelphia, Upper Darby, Pittsburgh, DuBois, Butler, Youngsville, Tionesta, Brackenridge, Sugar Grove, Sykesville, Corry, State College, Connellsville, Asbury Park, N. J., and Yellow Springs, O.

Following a wedding trip to Ocean City, N. J., the couple will be at home October 1st at 430 East Jefferson street, Media. For travel, the bride selected a two-piece sheath dress in hemlock green, with black accessories and corsage of white gladiolus.

She was graduated from Warren High School in 1932 and from Pennsylvania State University in June of this year, majoring in home economics and journalism.

Hostesses honoring the bride-elect were Mrs. George Rigby, Media; Mrs. Florence Anderson, Mrs. Homer Swick, Miss Christine Hurd. The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents in the Cedar Room of the Blue and White Restaurant.

the best trips yet with "not a sick boy" among the group.

Frank Suanna, as new program chairman, asked for suggestions as to the programs most desired and said he hopes to make the meetings interesting.

Kaebnick's Attend Sunday School Union Gathering

Meeting at Gull Lake, Mich., missionaries of the American Sunday School Union, concluded their four-day annual conference with plans for wide advance throughout rural America, according to the Rev. Ernest A. Kaebnick, general missionary of the organization.

Representing a fourth of the field force of 160 missionaries located in 40 states of the Union, workers of the North Central and Lakes Districts engaged in a schedule of instruction periods, inspirational Bible study and addresses, and planning of the work for the coming year.

In attendance at the gathering were also 23 wives of the missionaries who have formed an auxiliary organization in connection with the work. Ernest Kaebnick acted as chairman of this group.

Pioneer rural Sunday school organization in the United States, the American Sunday School Union has carried on a vigorous program of religious work for 140 years. The 27 missionaries from the North Central District, in which Mr. Kaebnick labors and over which the retired district superintendent, the Rev. Frank A. Kehrli of Warren, presided for 14 years, supervise 350 schools in the states of Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan.

Auxiliary phases of the far-reaching work of the Union include young people's Bible conferences, Pioneers For Christ, young people's societies, Vacation Bible School, and numerous other religious services. The missionaries also engage in welfare work, serving needy homes, especially in the remote, mountainous sections of Pennsylvania.

Reports of activities in all areas of the work were given at the Michigan conference by the Rev. Lester E. Spencer, secretary of missions, and the Rev. William J. Jones, editor of the publications of the Union, both from Philadelphia, headquarters of the Society. Ernest Kaebnick, Jr., accompaned his parents to Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., where he will be a junior this year.

Campaign Headquarters

If you are one of the curious Warrenites who has passed the above Times Square window, pictured in a Timesphoto by Saylor, and found yourself wondering "what is it?" — the mystery is herewith removed, without the aid of Dunninger.

It's Warren Players' campaign headquarters, chosen for its accessibility to the downtown business area, where all interested persons may make application to the community dramatic club during its annual membership drive.

The campaign, launched September 10, will continue throughout this month. It is the hope of the campaign committee that the 27th season of Warren Players Club will reach a goal of 1,500, an increase of roughly 200 memberships over the 1955-56 season.

If Children Can't Behave, Then Leave Them Home

WANT to know if your hostess wishes you hadn't caught her at home when you go visiting with your children?

She does—and you might as well know it—if your children behave the way so many of those who write me claim their friends' children act when they accompany mama for a visit.

Let's let one letter describe the situation: "They bounce up and down on the furniture. They handle bric-a-brac. They race through the house and wander into bedrooms, where as likely as not they pull out drawers and rummage around to see what they can find to play with."

"They bring the water or cookies you give them in the kitchen into the living room, spill the water and get the cookie crumbs on your sofa."

"They drag their hands along painted walls, leaving fingerprints that won't wash off."

"They interrupt so much you and your guest are unable to carry on a conversation. And when mama reprimands them, they pay absolutely no attention."

"Finally, mama gives up and drags them away, apologizing for their behavior but never really seeing just how much damage they have done."

A CONSTANT REFRAIN IN LETTERS

OVER and over such letters come to this column asking me to please tell mothers either to teach their children how to behave in someone else's home or to leave them home when they go calling. So here's a plea from harried hostesses. If you have to apologize for your children's behavior when you take them out why not keep them at home until you have them under better control?

No matter how much your friends think of you they won't enjoy seeing you arrive with one or all of your children unless your children are well-behaved guests. Your hostess won't tell you but she may be one of those who has asked me to tell you for her.

Fifty shop employees cross the picket line to work each morning, but the strikers who maintain the line 24 hours a day report no trucks have entered or left the plant since the walkout began 15 days ago.

International Convention of 1888 Is Given as Background For Crisis Over the Suez Canal

By BEM PRICE
Associated Press News Analyst
Washington (P)—Diplomats of 18 nations, including Secretary of State Dulles, are in London for a conference on the Suez crisis.

This is the background of that crisis which rests, in large measure, on the international convention of 1888 "respecting the free navigation of the Suez Maritime Canal."

This convention was signed at Constantinople Oct. 29, 1888. Parties to it were Great Britain, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Spain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Russia and Turkey.

At the time of the Ottoman Empire, which radiated from Turkey, was Egypt's nominal ruler, but in truth Britain held the canal and, for all practical purposes, Egypt itself through agreements with Egypt's all-but-independent Khedive.

England began to enter Egypt commercially in 1848 when the Pasha Abbas I granted permission to build a railroad between Alexandria and Cairo.

After Abbas' death his uncle said Pasha became khedive and it was he who gave his good friend, the Frenchman Ferdinand de Lesseps, a franchise to build and operate the Suez Canal.

This franchise, which was to last 99 years ending in 1968, in no way denied Egypt's sovereignty over the canal.

Originally the British opposed the canal's construction and succeeded in delaying the project for two years. Eventually, though, De Lesseps got a go-ahead from Said, who in turn gave the British franchises to operate banks and telegraphs.

When Said died in 1868 he was succeeded by his nephew Ismail, whose personal extravagances led Egypt down the road to national bankruptcy. To raise money for his private pleasures, Ismail sold Egypt's holdings in the canal to Britain, thus giving Britain 44 per cent of the canal's stock.

Under Ismail, Egypt's finances deteriorated into chaos. Britain and France entered Egypt to protect their investments and took over Egypt's revenue systems.

The presence of these foreigners stirred Egyptians to a revolt under a cabinet member named Orabi. In May 1882 there was a massacre of Europeans in Alexandria. Britain invited France to help put down the unrest. France declined and Britain went in alone. She bombarded the Alexandrian forts, landed troops and suppressed Orabi. Suez became a British base.

While Britain brought order and increased Egyptian prosperity, her presence fanned a still burning flame of nationalism.

Meanwhile, British presence at the canal inspired some unrest among the canal's users. The result was the 1888 convention.

The first article declared, "The Suez Maritime Canal shall always be free and open, in time of war as in time of peace, to every vessel of commerce or of war without distinction of flag."

Under Article 8 "the agents in Egypt of the signatory powers . . . shall be charged with its execution. In case of any event threatening the security of free passage . . . they shall meet to proceed to the necessary verifications."

"They shall inform the khedival government of the danger . . . in order that the government may take proper steps to insure protection and the free use of the canal."

Egypt was charged by the convention with insuring the free passage provisions. The treaty said this provision, however, should not interfere "with the measures . . . the government might find necessary to take for securing by their own forces the defense of Egypt and the maintenance of public order."

It is Egypt's present contention that free passage is in no way hampered by Egypt's taking over operation of the canal from the company originally formed by De Lesseps.

England and France hold that the fulfillment of the free passage provisions rests upon the supervision of the "agents in Egypt of the signatory powers"; that one nation control, even if it is Egypt, is dangerous.

A LITTLE VOICE

Des Moines (P)—When a call came from one of the benches in a Little League baseball game recently questioning the honesty of the umpire, the ump threatened to clear the bench.

The players checked among themselves, found that none of them had made the remark.

Finally, a younger brother of one of the players confessed. He said: "I said it. I knew you couldn't say it without getting thrown out—so I did."

INVENTORY SHORT

Covington, Va. (P)—Franz Brandl, 24, of Linz, Austria, a Fulbright scholar studying at the University of Massachusetts, lost a brief case while hitchhiking near here.

Two boys found it in a ravine while hunting lizards. It contained a passport and other papers described by Brandl—all except $185.

Father Credits

Kuhel, formerly from Brooklyn, N. Y., is manager of the Chase Manhattan Bank's branch office here.

Robert's two shots killed Hugo Walgenbach as the German aimed his own gun at the boy's father.

Walgenbach had entered the Kuhel home and at pistol point demanded Kuhel withdraw marks worth about $75,000 from the bank, under penalty of harm to Mrs. Kuhel and young Robert.

While a discussion was going on, Robert asked to go to the bathroom and while gone he picked up a target practice .22 pistol which he hid under his coat.

As the family drove away, Kuhel swerved in front of a Military Police patrol car to attract attention. Walgenbach leveled his pistol at Kuhel but Robert fired twice and felled the German.

Kuhel said Robert was back in 9th grade in school. "He slept well," the father said.

Walker faction even if that group lost.

However, Democrats For Democratic Action did say a coin flip might be considered if the following conditions were arranged (this is from a DFDA statement).

"The Warren County Democratic situation would revert to May 21 when the election was held between Mike Papaverio and Tom Conway. In other words, since Mr. Walker's appointment never received the endorsement of Mr. Conway, then chairman, he should step back into the assistant superintendent position; he should vacate the vice chair position he now holds; and since Mr. Anderson has indicated his wholehearted support of Mr. Walker, contrary to state committeemen's policy, that he should resign if the Walker faction loses. Then the stakes would be even and the winner would take all and the loser would have no consolation prize."

When Walker was contacted this morning he said the whole issue was supposed to be sent back to Barr in Harrisburg and the decision would come from him.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Warren, Pennsylvania

Mr. Ed Lowrey, Editor
Warren Times-Mirror
Warren, Penna.
Dear Ed:

Inasmuch as there has been considerable conversation concerning the erection of a new high school for our community, I have not as yet heard of any comparison of the costs which would be involved in the acquiring of surrounding properties and the enlargement and modernization of the school at its present site as compared to the acquiring of the Swick property and erecting a comparable new plant. I think that this should be a factor to be considered, because the public is being faced with higher living costs and the probability of the imposing of a state income tax next year. After such a comparison could be made, I think that it would be much easier for the people of our community to arrive at a better decision.

Very truly yours,

Ohio City of 40,000 Is Without Phone Service

Portsmouth, Ohio (AP)—This Ohio River town of about 40,000 people was without telephone service today. All calls going in and out of the city, as well as local calls, were suspended after incidents of violence in a two-month-long phone strike.

Police Chief Hugh Rudity declared an emergency. He ordered all police personnel and auxiliaries to report for duty.

A local "hot rod" club organized its members to act as couriers for hospitals in the area.

Telegrams were the only means by which residents of this southern Ohio community could communicate with friends or relatives outside the city.

The struck Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. closed its exchanges in Portsmouth and in Sciotoville, a small village near here, last night.

Rector Wages Legal Fight To Retain Gotham Parish

New York (AP)—The Rev. William Howard Melish, long the center of a parish feud over his alleged left-wing views, has won a legal battle to keep his post as rector of a Brooklyn church.

The Rev. Mr. Melish said the referee's decision "means a complete vindication."

SMOOTHER

HAPPINESS is a telephone call

A voice you hadn't heard for weeks or months...
The offer of a job you wanted so much to win...
An invitation to a party you know will be great fun...
Good news from your family or faraway friends...
A business order you'd worked hard to get...

In everyone's life, so much happiness starts with the ring of the telephone. So often, the calls you receive are more important to you than those you make. And these calls never show up on your telephone bill. That's just one more reason why the telephone is one of your biggest bargains. Your telephone costs you so little for what it gives you.

BUMS HAVE ONE-POINT EDGE OVER MILWAUKEE BRAVES; YANKEES SIT BACK AND WAIT

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals, who looked up with Brooklyn in those tiring pennant battles of the 1940s, have stolen a page from the past to leave the Dodgers with a skinny one-percentage-point edge in the National League race today.

The fourth-place Cardinals knocked off the Dodgers 6-5 last night on Ken Boyer's ninth-inning home run while second-place Milwaukee was rallying to defeat Pittsburgh 6-4.

At the same time the New York Yankees clinched the American League title by beating the Chicago White Sox 3-2. Mickey Mantle won it with an 11th-inning homer.

Cincinnati virtually was jarred out of the NL race by losing a two-night doubleheader to Philadelphia's "spoilers" 4-3 and 7-4.

The New York Giants split a pair with Chicago's Cubs, winning 8-2 after a 4-2 defeat.

Cleveland reclaimed second place from Chicago in the American with a 1-0 and 6-0 two-night sweep against Washington. Kansas City trimmed Boston 6-5. Detroit defeated Baltimore 6-2.

The Cardinals blew a 4-0 lead before riding in on Boyer's two-out two-run homer. Gil Hodges' two-run homer in the seventh seemingly had given the Brooks a fourth straight victory.

Mantle's two-out shot made him the eighth major leaguer ever to hit 50 home runs in one season but left him eight games shy of Babe Ruth's record 60 paces in 1927 with nine games to go. It broke up Billy Pierce's bid for a 21st victory. Whitey Ford won his 19th, his best in the majors, but needed relief help from Bob Grim in the 11th. Yogi Berra's single tied it in the ninth. Mantle singled home the first Yankee-run. Walt Dropo and Larry Doby homered for the Sox runs.

Herb Score, backed by Jim Hegan's RBI double in the eighth inning, won his 18th with a fourth-hit, 14-strikeout job in the opener for the Tribe. Mike Garcia then three-hit Washington in the nightcap while Vic Wertz drove in three runs, two with his 30th homer.

'IN THIS CORNER, THAT PERENNIAL—'

Aid to Football Players in PCC Due for Revision

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—Changes can be expected in the Pacific Coast Conference athletic code governing aid to football players and other athletes, but just what revisions should be made remains a subject of disagreement.

The heads of the nine member institutions, with one absent, met yesterday to explore code provisions. Some wanted a stricter code, some wanted it more lenient.

"Nearly everybody in the room had a plan or a piece of a plan," commented Dr. Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California and chairman of the Presidents' Council.

Plans discussed included that of the Ivy League, stricter than the present PCC code, the Big Ten plan recently approved by its faculty group, and another put forth by a committee appointed in May by the PCC itself.

Dr. Sproul said another Presidents' Council meeting will be held in about a month and added, "We hope to reach conclusions and make definite recommendations to the faculty representatives."

During the past summer UCLA, Southern California, Washington and California drew heavy penalties for violations of the code because of illegal aid given athletes by alumni or booster organizations.

At that time opponents of the code argued it was too strict and impractical. It permits grants-in-aid covering costs of tuition and fees, on-campus work in which an athlete can earn up to $100 per month at $2 an hour and bonafide off-campus work.

Stengel Shouts 'Bring 'Em On' As Yanks Win by 11 Lengths

By JOE MOOSHL

Chicago (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel, slugger Mickey Mantle and the rest of the pennant-winning New York Yankees are ready for "whoever wins the National League race."

"Bring 'em on," shouted Stengel last night after his Yankees had clinched it with an 11-inning 3-2 victory over the White Sox on Mantle's 50th homer of the year.

Mantle's blast added zest to the end of a dull American League race. It won the pennant, tied the American League record of 182 homers hit by one club—the Yankees of 1936—and made Mickey the only Yankee other than Babe Ruth to reach the 50 mark.

The pennant was the seventh for the Yankees in the last eight years—all under the fiery Stengel.

Mantle expressed surprise that he was the only other Yankee besides Ruth to hit 50 or more home runs in one season.

"I feel pretty good about it," he said. "It is something I'll always remember. Naturally I'm glad I got it because it helped Whitey Ford win his 19th game. You know he's trying for 20 this year."

Mantle's homer came off Chicago's left-handed ace Billy Pierce, who received a lot of credit from Stengel.

"I don't care who wins the National League race," said Stengel. "We beat Pierce tonight. Have they got anyone in that league who's as good as Pierce?"

Stengel also commended his club, saying it "has been great at times and it's been lousy. But it's a first-class club and it's in condition so we're not afraid of anyone in the National League."

Teenagers Could Learn Respect of Elders in USGAWA

By DALE BURGESS

Indianapolis (AP)—Teenagers, threatening to make shambles of the 56th USGA Women's Amateur golf tournament, faced opposition today that could teach them respect for their elders.

Joanne Gunderson, 17-year-old blonde who played the sharpest second-round match yesterday, was matched with defending champion Pat Lesser in an all-Seattle feature.

Both play out of Sand Point Club but they never have met in a tourney match.

Tall Joanne, USGA Junior champion, shaved three strokes off par yesterday and had to play only 10 holes to crush Elsie Johnson, Jenkins, Ky., 9 and 8.

Little Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., another 17-year-old who relaxes before a match by playing with a yo-yo, wore a coonskin cap while cutting up Mrs. Elaine F. Woolworth, Noroton, Conn., 8 and 7. Clifford Ann shot 1-over-par 37 on the front nine.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching—Curt Simmons and Robin Roberts, Phillies, gave just three walks and struck out 11 between them for 4-3 and 7-4 sweep of two-night doubleheader that virtually knocked Redlegs out of National League race.

Hitting—Johnny Logan, Braves, singled home two runs that overhauled 4-3 Pirate lead in eighth and hoisted Milwaukee to within one percentage point of National League lead.

OUTNUMBERED, BUT NOT OUTSPOKEN — Maryland's governor, Theodore R. McKeldin, only Republican governor to attend the 22nd Southern Governors' Conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., displays a card of "Ike" buttons he had at the conference. Each of the buttons carries the "I Like Ike" slogan in a different language.

Mutzabaugh and Jeff Riedel, boys' work director; for the physical department, S. Knox Harper and Robert Hammerbeck, physical director; and by Dan K. Walton, general secretary for the general activities and services of the "Y". All of these reports indicated heavy use of the "Y" building, facilities and program by its 1,178 members, as well as many community groups making it their meeting place. President Templeton congratulated the committees and staff for the fine services rendered this past summer.

During a recent flood on several rivers in Australia, paddle steamers which had been retired for more than 12 years were called back into service to bring relief and food to floodbound homesteads.

Registrations For Evening Classes Begin on Sept. 24th

Registrations for evening courses at Warren High School will begin at 7:00 p. m. Monday, September 24, according to an announcement received from Joseph V. Passaro, principal.

The courses will fall into three groups. There will be classes for which instruction will be furnished by Penn State University, including courses on fuel technology, petroleum refining, and metallurgy.

The course of metallurgy is called Introduction to Ferrous Metallurgy. It is the first of a three-year program in a very comprehensive program of study in the metallurgical fundamentals of steelmaking and forming. The topics to be covered in the course are as follows:

Principles of chemistry and physics of importance to metallurgy, metallurgy fuels, refractories, iron ore and steel scrap, and the principles of blast furnace operation.

The course is open to all persons employed in metal companies, whether the plant is a semi-integrated plant, foundry, fabrication plant or a metal specialty shop. The subject matter of the following two years of the program will deal with steel-making and forming, and with the physical metallurgy of iron and steel. Again, it must be emphasized that persons interested in these latter topics should enroll in this introductory course in order to be adequately prepared.

While a high school education is recommended as a prerequisite, this is waived for those persons who have several years' experience in some phase of steel plant processing. The most important prerequisite is a sincere desire to learn the "why" of steelmaking and forming processes.

There will be evening courses which are not taught in day-school but will be taught by the Warren High School faculty.

Any of the day-school courses will be offered if 20 people desire to have it.

Some of the courses to be included are: typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, drafting, blueprint reading, wood shop, machine shop, distributive education, English to the foreign-born. An art course will also be offered, students to have their choice of the art fields.

A deposit of $5.00 will be required of all students. If the student attends 75% of the classes, this sum will be refunded.

Delegate to Recent Convention Relates His Experiences

The weekly luncheon meeting of the Warren Lions Club was held today at the YWCA with President Edward Mackendrick presiding. Guests introduced were Dave Deardorff and Herb Kanovsky. Lion Harold Swartz from Titusville was also present at the meeting.

Dr. Gabriel Chimenti reported that the Lions Club Sight Conservation Committee had sent a local girl to Erie where muscular surgery was performed on her eye.

Guest speaker was Lion Samuel Bonavita who told about the Republican National Convention in San Francisco, which he attended as a delegate-at-large. His account of the electronic installations for television and radio coverage of the convention was most interesting. He explained how the demonstrations were staged and told about the famous "Joe Smith" incident which captured the fancy of everyone present. In closing, Lion Bonavita gave an interesting account of the Pennsylvania caucus meeting at which Vice-President Nixon spoke.

President Mackendrick adjourned the meeting at 1:30.
